New to the Show

Sport Chassis

"The Ultimate Pick Up Line"

Made in the USA

Pulling any sort of large trailer, RV or boat can be challenging. Lots of companies talk about how their truck can pull your trailer down the highway, but our question is can they stop you? For us it comes down to mass, if what you're pulling is a lot heavier than what you're pulling it with, then you have a potential problem. The M2 chassis from Freightliner is designed for heavy-duty towing capacity mile after mile. Our luxury interiors, award-winning design and dynamic acoustical environment make sure that getting there is more than half the fun. SportChassis partners with leaders in their field and only includes the best technology and products in its vehicles.

Power, comfort, safety, security and style all contribute to making SportChassis the ultimate pickup line.
